Congratulations on launching CaptainChef.
Here's a ₹2000 ad credit to promote it to new users*

Promote your app with universal app campaigns

Get more users to discover CaptainChef with Google universal app campaigns across the Google Play Store, Google Search, Youtube and more. Simply set up your account, create your ad, and let Google's automation tools handle the rest.

START NOW

with a ₹2000 ad credit to use on a new universal app campaign.
Use code by January 31, 2018:

How does it work?

Step 1—Customize your ad

A preview of your ad is generated using your app's information in the Play Store. To customize, just add lines of text that can be used in any order. You can also add images and videos.

Step 2—Set your daily budget

Set your own target cost-per-install (tCPI) and max daily budget. So, if you set your daily budget for $100, and your tCPI is $2, you're aiming for about 50 installs per day from your ads.

Step 3—Let Google handle the rest

With machine learning, your ads, bids, and targeting will be continually refined to deliver high-quality installs—all within your budget. This way, you can focus on making your app even better.
